Heirloom Activities

by Rachel Doolin ALL MATERIALS SUPPLIED

Love Letter to a Seed

In this creative arts workshop, children will be inspired by the beauty and symbolism of seeds, exploring them as metaphors for growth, potential, and new beginnings. The session will begin with a visit to the Heirloom exhibition, where children will explore the artwork and seed displays, followed by a hands-on art-making session, where they will create their own "Love Letter to a Seed". This will be an opportunity for them to express their hopes, dreams, and personal aspirations, using the seed as a symbol of the possibilities ahead.

FRI 11 JUL 10AM €15
SUITABLE FOR AGES 6-8 YEARS DURATION: 90 MINS

Curious Creatures

In this hands-on workshop, children will create their own curious creatures using a selection of natural materials. Twigs, leaves, seed pods, feathers, and other found objects will be provided for them to explore and assemble into imaginative sculptures. They will experiment with different ways of connecting materials, discovering how to balance, slot, and tie pieces together to bring their creatures to life. They will also have the chance to name their creations and imagine their stories – where they live, how they move, and what makes them unique.

Oh...

Written and performed by Mikel Murfi
Directed by Kellie Hughes

Set in the main tank of Galway Atlantaquaria, Mikel Murfi performs his new solo show, Oh...

Using the water-environment as a poetic space, Oh... reflects on new journeys, partings and the possibility of moving on.

Curious, wry and ultimately uplifting, this unique production pushes the boundaries of traditional theatrical form, using movement, visual effects, sound and new music composition to create an atmosphere where reality and the imagination blur.

Oh... invites you to dive deeper into the human experience, where that which is extraordinary in all of us, is quietly imaginable.

glór presents

Heirloom by Rachel Doolin

Heirloom is an installation of works created by artist Rachel Doolin. The project stems from a culmination of experiential research undertaken during an Arctic-based residency programme, later informed by a creative partnership with the Irish Seed Savers Association.

The Svalbard Global Seed Vault, buried deep beneath a permafrost mountain, houses a backup of the world's largest collection of agricultural biodiversity, cryogenically preserved. As risks from the climate crisis and global conflict escalate, seed banks are increasingly considered a precious resource that could one day prevent a worldwide food crisis. Heirloom presents a series of visual, installation, and digital works that celebrate the 'profundity of seeds' by exploring the human thread that articulates the connection between our past, present, and future.

A Walk & Talk Tour with the Artist, facilitated by Gillian Lattimore of Irish Seed Savers will take place on Sat 12 Jul at 10am. All welcome.

friend

This is the thrill of fighting another human, without the fear. This is a dance, a gig, a theatrical shove into the heart of the pit. This is the meaning behind the chaos. Blending raucous dance, live music, interviews with real mosh pit devotees, and new writing, MOSH dives into the deeper meaning behind a misunderstood subculture. Is this violence or dancing? What are the rules? And why would anyone do this?

the five cast members (who are exceptional) explode onto the stage in a flurry of bodies, potent bursts of energy and passionate releases.

Is Mise Éire Eile I am another Ireland

friend

In autumn 2023 staff of a small guesthouse in Newbridge prepared to welcome 100 international protection applicants. As buses with men seeking asylum pulled into the new direct provision site, they were met by hundreds of residents who had gathered to protest their arrival. Is Mise Éire Eile tells the story of a community grappling with itself following the protests and coming to terms with its new residents. With text from interviews with the applicants themselves, community members, and local leaders, Is Mise Éire Eile shares stories of these men and provides hope for building stronger communities.

The performance will be followed by a panel discussion with company members, local community organisers, and elected officials to discuss practical tools to build more harmonious communities.

LASTA Young Curators Festival

SUSTAIN

Curated by Ciara Miesle and Caelainn Reynolds, the festival brings together a vibrant programme designed by young people, for young people. This year's theme, SUSTAIN, explores creativity and sustainability through a diverse range of events. Highlights include an open call exhibition for young Clare artists, anime film screenings, live music and creative workshops in comic art and sustainable fashion. Celebrate youth, creativity and fresh perspectives!

OCT 2025

LASTA Young Artist Open Call

Launching this summer, this is a chance for young visual artists (ages 13–25, from Clare) to respond to a featured artist and theme.

Selected works will be showcased in the glór gallery Autumn programme.

Keep an eye on our website and social media for further details.

Artists' Opportunities

We are excited to share a number of upcoming artist opportunities - keep an eye on our website and social media for further details and launch dates:

Artist-to-Artist Mentoring Programme

Our annual mentoring initiative returns, connecting Clare-based artists across disciplines for shared growth and creative exchange.

Community-Focused Artist-in-Residence Opportunity

We'll be supporting a Clare-based artist to co-create new work with a marginalised community through a residency rooted in care, collaboration, and inclusion.

Traditional Artist Collaborations Programme

A brand-new opportunity for two individual traditional musicians or dancers based in Clare to collaborate with another artist, including those from different genres/ geographic locations.

Making Music in Clare: The Teaching Residency

Did you play an instrument in the past, but then life got in the way? Now's your chance to get playing again!

Music Network, glór and Clare Arts Office invite residents of Clare aged 60+ to join a unique music project offering free tuition, access to instruments and opportunities to learn through traditional Irish music to get you playing again.

Maeve Donnelly (fiddle), Josephine Marsh (accordion/ concertina) and Eoin O'Neill (bouzouki/ guitar/ banjo/ mandolin) will be our inspirational tutors for Making Music in Clare this year. We invite you to come along and meet them, find out more about the project, how you can get involved and enjoy a wonderful afternoon of music on 9th May as we welcome Maeve, Josephine and Eoin to perform a special lunchtime concert to launch the project.

Presented by Music Network in partnership with glór and Clare Arts Office, with support from the Heritage Council.
